NIGEL DAVIES

DIRECTOR

Nigel is founding director of Evolve and has 20+ years' extensive experience within the AEC industry. He has unique insight and first-hand understanding of cutting-edge design and construction data production and exchange practices.

Trained originally in civil and structural engineering, Nigel appreciates the need for reality-based solutions to aid the project design process. He has accrued invaluable experience in information management and delivery through his work for notable projects including the Millennium Dome (O2 Arena), BBC Broadcasting Centre redevelopment, Thames Tideway Tunnels and HS2.

Nigel regularly presents to major conferences in the US/UK and features in industry press.
